HAIDA PRESENCE IN THE WORKFORCE

About 19 of 44 permanent staff are Haida citizens.

The plan's goal is more Haida at every level, especially in management, and more staff based on Haida Gwaii.

HOW THE PLAN WAS BUILT (2024)

Jan

New Board appointed (4 new, 3 reappointed)

Feb

Workshops with the Board and CHN Special Committee

Apr – Jun

Drafts v1 & v2

Jul – Aug

v3 & final; LOE review; citizen engagement

Sep – Oct

Board & CHN approval, then House of Assembly

Also draws on the Growing Synergy citizen engagement (2023) and the 2017 sessions (75 participants, 121 door-to-door survey responses). This replaces the outdated 2011–2016 plan.

WHERE HAICO STANDS TODAY

CHALLENGES

- Governance was slow to set up and strained trust with leadership and citizens
- Engagement and communication with citizens has been weak, and negative perceptions remain
- Acquired forestry, tourism and fishing businesses came with financial limits; Taan Forest profits covered losses elsewhere
- Hard to balance forest stewardship with timber harvesting
- Hard to attract and keep Haida staff, especially managers (made worse by COVID-19)

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- ✓ All-Haida Board since January 2024; Governance Manual adopted in 2018
- ✓ Quarterly joint meetings with CHN, SHN, OMVC and SBC
- ✓ Recovered from near-bankruptcy in 2019 and grew value through COVID-19
- ✓ 550+ ha of degraded forest restored by Taan Forest Stewardship
- ✓ Haida House and Ocean House turned into eco-tourism operations
- ✓ $25M+ in annual local spend with 200+ vendors; cash distributions to CHN continue

Bottom line: 2025–2030 is a transition period. HaiCo will rebuild trust through open communication, protect Haida Gwaii, grow Haida careers and businesses, and deliver measurable economic benefits. The next step is five-year business plans and annual operating plans with clear targets, reported back to citizens.
